SUMMARY: Mr. Tucker questions the value of a policy of military primacy when it is no longer reasonable to view the world in conventional balance-of-power terms. He suggests that a reduced role in global affairs would not endanger our security.

SUMMARY: Rosalyn Tureck traces the evolution of ornamentation in music through the 19th and 20th centuries, starting with Bach, Schoenberg, Messiaen, and Varese. Using musical examples, she demonstrates how the integrated ornament developed in musical

SUMMARY: Dr. Zangwill outlines the historical development of the study of animal behavior, beginning with early philosophical inquiries into the nature of man and animals, through the work of pioneers such as Lloyd Morgan, J. B. Watson, Pavlov, and B. F. Skinner. The effect of behaviorism, ethology, and cognitive influences on today's views of animal behavior are discussed.
